Our Impact

Seeds inspire and cultivate new generations of global leaders in communities divided by conflict.

6698 ALUMNI IN 27 COUNTRIES

250+
Seeds trained in mediation and negotiation by Harvard Law faculty

135+
Israeli and Palestinian professionals trained in dialogue facilitation

1000+
Israeli and Palestinian educators trained in cross-cultural understanding, civic engagement, and trauma resiliency

1200+
GATHER convening participants galvanized to take action on critical issues at the heart of conflict

60+
Fellows leading high-impact ventures that inspire economic, social, and political change

Impact of Camp Program

The University of Chicago Booth School of Business demonstrated that both Jewish Israelis and Palestinians showed significant positive attitude change about the other side from pre-Camp to post-Camp.

Before Camp

Middle East delegates had little to no contact with "the other side." — 94%

Experienced violence personally or through loss/injury to a loved one as a result of the conflict. — 41%

After Camp

Formed more than one positive relationship with someone from "the other side."
- Jewish Israelis 100%
- Palestinians 94%

Will continue to take concrete, intentional action towards conflict transformation. — 86%

THE FOUR TOP SECTORS SEEDS ARE WORKING IN

29% BUSINESS

16% GOVT/POLICY/ LAW

15% TECH

11% NGO/CIVIL SOCIETY

31% currently hold or aim to hold political office

55% said their work contributes to conflict transformation, through economic, social, and/or political change

21% are involved in initiatives outside their primary work that contributes to conflict transformation through economic, social, and/or political change.

Collectively, Seeds are spending between 999-1475+ HOURS PER WEEK on these activities.

25 YEARS OF IMPACT SEEDS OF PEACE

70% are involved with Seeds of Peace programs following their time at Camp

89% describe themselves as supporters of Seeds of Peace

48% have given back to Seeds of Peace by donating time, money, or services in support of our work

99% recommend Seeds of Peace to others

Based on a representative, randomized 2017 survey of Seeds who attended Camp 1993-2009.
Survey responses' statistical confidence and margin of error level are acceptable in the broader field of social science research.