Whether you work in a school or a community organization, you are investing in young people every day. We want to support and join you in that work.

FACILITATING YOUTH VOICES A Seeds of Peace workshop

Seeds of Peace is committed to expanding our network of educators and adult allies who understand and practice the skills we promote in our programs: dialogue, community-building, youth leadership, and action-taking.

This workshop offers participants an introduction to the dialogic practices used by Seeds of Peace facilitators and program implementers, including:

- » How to create youth spaces that promote connection and empathy rather than division and misunderstanding.
- » How to facilitate skills-building exercises that promote question-asking, listening, and curiosity despite difference.
- » How to navigate conflict and interpersonal discord between youth.

Participants will:

- » Gain an understanding of Seeds of Peace programs, mission, and vision.
- » Gain skills to facilitate exercises and activities that promote listening, curiosity, and set the stage for deeper conversations across lines of difference.
- » Learn strategies around facilitating through conflict or when a conversation or interaction has gone sideways.

The workshop runs 2.5 hours and is offered both virtually and in-person (in select locations).

The program is offered free of charge.

See our website for more details, upcoming workshop dates, and to register:
